Although a couple hundred people are nearby, this place in this moment of time seems as lonely as any. "Ever get the feeling you were being set up?" Carson of Third Platoon asked sourly. "If anyone gets it first, guess who." Sound returned to the tape. Over a background crash-and-clatter of Chevy-bashing, the directional.Sirocco tuned his head towards Hanlon. "Get a couple of pistol belts and side arms from the Armory, Bret," he said. "Let's find out just how good this character really is. I think he might be able to help us solve our problem." Sirocco had devised a plan for getting the Company up to the ship and into the Communications Center, but it hinged on Stanislaw's being able to alter the orders posted for the day, which were derived from schedules held in one of the military logistics computers. Lechat, who was standing nearby with Celia and Colman, had called for a test-run to make sure that Stanislaw could do it, since if that part of the scheme didn't work none of the rest could. Sirocco had suspended the briefing to resolve the issue there and then...old Cracker Jack...change the subject."What is?"...confusion of reality and cinema would come in handy. Recalling her previous triumph over the egg-laying.Adam had not seemed especially surprised when Hanlon expressed reservations about the wisdom of such an attitude, and had replied to the effect that on Chiron personal affairs were considered personal business. Some couples might choose to remain exclusively committed to each other and their family, others might not, and it wasn't a matter for society or anybody else to comment on. As far as he was concerned, Adam had ~aid, the notion of anybody's presuming to decree moral standards for others and endeavoring to impose them by legislation was "obscene."CHAPTER THIRTY-TWO."That was unfortunate, but it was beyond our control," Leon said. "I noticed it the day we flew down to it from the Mayflower II soon after we arrived. . . when Shirley and Ci met Tony Driscoll. The front end must be at least twice as big as it used to be."."Because the Book tells us we must."Colman grinned. "Okay, chief. I will." A short silence fell while they both thought about the same thing. "How long do you think it'll be?" Colman asked at last..Bernard sighed. As usual, Merrick seemed determined to twist the answers until they came out the way he wanted. "Of course not," Bernard replied. "But I think people are exaggerating the situation. That incident was not representative of what we should expect. The Chironians act as they're treated. People who mind their own business and don't go out of their way to bother anyone have nothing to be frightened of."..why are you painting it?" he asked. "Because it needs painting."Colman shrugged. "I don't know. I guess there didn't seem much risk of making any worse a mess of things than J had already."..Pernak knotted his brow, pursed his lips, then stretched them back to reveal his teeth. "Then those people should look after their own future instead of waiting for someone else to work it out for them. That's the old way. They have to learn to think the Chironian way." After a second of hesitation he added, '-that's what Eve and I are going to do.Trademark Office and in other countries. Marca Registrada.
